THAT OLD-TIME RELIGION

Two barflies were deep in a discussion of religion. "Well, all the same," said one, "most of us don't know enough about it. Take you, for example: I'll bet $10 that you can't even say the Lord's Prayer from memory."

"Why, that's ridiculous," shouted the other. "I'll take that bet." And he proceeded to recite

Now I lay me down to sleep,
I pray the Lord my soul to keep.
If I should die before I wake
I pray the Lord my soul to take.

When he had finished, there was a profound silence in the bar. Then his companion grinned ruefully. "Well, I never!" he exclaimed. "You did know it!" And he handed over the $10.

PUBLISHER'S PAGE

Back in December I wrote a piece for this page about writing a subscription, when I was a little boy, for the Messenger of the Sacred Heart, at the urging of my teacher, Sister Adeline. I sold that subscription to Mrs. Tholen across the street; her son Lambert and I used to pal around and get into mischief together. The point of the page was that it is good for kids in school to help the Catholic Press, and, in my case at least, it had something important to do with my vocation.

I don't remember if Lambert also wrote a subscription, but he must have, because this is what happened to him, as described by his charming wife.

Father Bussard

Dear Father Bussard:

In January we received a copy of THE CATHOLIC DIGEST from Lambert's brother Frank, who lives in Marshall, Minn. It was the December issue of 1958. Since reading it have wanted to write and say Hello, but many things have happened. We enjoyed reading your article including Lambert's name. He has often spoken of you, and I, too, know your twin brothers as I lived in Marshall in 1917-18-19 on 1st St., near your folks. I was a Hammond girl, and my folks moved to Canby in 1919. I met Lambert in 1921. Although we went to different schools in Marshall we had some of the same friends, but never met. I became a convert to the Church when we married.

In January I had a very serious stomach operation and Lambert hurt his arm while working. He sells water softeners, and while installing one injured his arm. He cut the tendon and an artery in the wrist. He has his arm in an aluminum cast and it will be for a few weeks yet, although we do manage real well taking care of each other and are getting along fine. I am doing his writing for him since he was hurt.

Now I'd like to tell you a little about our family, and so forth. We lived in Marshall until 1947, when we moved to Yakima. We like it very much here; the weather is ideal. Our oldest daughter, Elinor, is a graduate of St. Benedict's college at St. Joseph, Minn., and is a schoolteacher. She is married now and has four lovely children. She married a Yakima boy who is a lawyer here. Our second daughter, Elaine, is a registered nurse, a graduate of St. Elizabeth's here in Yakima. She is married to a Yakima boy who is a carpenter. They have a lovely eight-month-old son. Both daughters married good Catholic boys.

Now our son John, the youngest, is a student at St. Thomas the Apostle seminary at Kenmore, Wash., near Seattle. It is a major seminary. He has three more years to go, and then it will be a happy day for us when he is ordained. By the way, Father, he was an altar boy while in school. We have such wonderful Catholic schools here in Yakima for both boys and girls.

Lambert has a picture of his classmates, and he is sure you are in it. Have been looking for it but can't seem to find it but hope to one of these days. He also has some holy cards from Sister Adeline.

Sincerely,
/s/ Mr. and Mrs. Lambert J. Tholen.

A TIP FROM THE MARINES

As I was opening the door at Port Authority in New York City, a young man stepped forward and offered to carry my two suitcases. No porter was in sight, and I was delighted to get rid of the heavy bags. It was a long walk to the ticket window, and a complicated journey, which included two steep flights of stairs, to the bus.

"I must give him a big tip," I thought, opening my purse.

But the young man merely shook his head and said, "Just pray for the Marines. They need it. I know—I was one."
